REBELS WELL PREPARED FOR ALL ATTACKS

20,000 Brazilians Well Provisioned, Armed and Motivated Hold Sao Paulo and the Surrounding Country

BUILD DEFENSES

English Bluffs Being Fortified—Command Outlook Over All Roads—Attackers Are Poorly Equipped

(By the Associated Press)
Buenos Aires, July 20.—The official heralded a decisive action by which the Brazilian government expects to put an end to the Sao Paulo rebellion which the rebels well prepared, according to uncensored dispatches reaching Buenos Aires from near the scene of the struggle.
With approximately 20,000 well armed and motivated men, the rebels are said to be waiting with confidence an attack by the federal forces. It is asserted that the rebels would hold all the strategic points in and about the city of Sao Paulo and also have artillery placed on what are known as the English bluffs, which command the roads leading to the city and from which the Portuguese a century ago used to watch for hostile Indians.
While batches of wounded men have been arriving in Santos, advisers corroborate the communications that there is no general fighting last week, the rebels having busily engaged in preparing defenses while awaiting the federalists to begin their promised major attack.
Want Fighting in Open.
The federal command, represented at first as appearing to be indecisive, hoping that events would shape themselves so as to make a general assault against the rebels unnecessary, now is said to be resolved to undertake an attack. The federalists appeared to have been influenced in their indecision by protests from the foreign consuls against the bombardment of Sao Paulo, as well as by a petition from the mayor of the city that it be spared from the resultant damage to a commerce.
The position of the mayor was answered a few days ago, however, by Marshal Cavallho, head of the federal army, who advised the people of Sao Paulo to appeal to the enemy who occupies the city to evacuate it and accept combat in the open. The marshal told the people that the moral damage caused by the resistance of the rebels would be more serious than the material damage and that it was not possible to guarantee that the artillery would not be used in cases of military necessity.
It is considered possible that the federal assault against Sao Paulo already has begun. This morning's communication received from Rio Janeiro spoke of an airplane reconnaissance for "operations" that are now proceeding.
The federal reinforcements, which have arrived at Santos are declared to be sufficiently provisioned and equipped for the temperature prevailing in the high altitudes of Sao Paulo. One regiment sent up into the hills is reported to have refused to remain there and to have returned to Santos, where it was assigned to guard duty.
Advanced Positions Taken.
Washington, July 20.—New and advanced positions have been taken by Brazilian federal troops operating about Sao Paulo under command of General Potyguara, according to a communication issued here today by the Brazilian embassy.
The communication covering the situation at noon July 19, said:
"The weather in Sao Paulo has become better, allowing now the reconnaissance which the heavy clouds were preventing. The government troops continued their movements preparatory to the recovery which they are about to undertake."
The statement is used last midnight.
"The government aviator have flown several times over the city of Sao Paulo, making the reconnaissance necessary to the operations that are being undertaken. An airplane has been used by the rebels has been designed in Rio de Janeiro. In the interior of the state of Sao Paulo, who fled from the rebels were a lieutenant and five petty officers. The troops under the command of General Potyguara took yesterday afternoon new and more advanced positions."

DAVIS ATTENDS CHURCH; RESTS

Practically Isolated From Rest of World, Nominee Ready to Talk Head Work

Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Me., July 20.—Coming to Islesboro from his haven of rest on a 700-acre island, John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, attended divine service today at the Church of Christ, Episcopalian.
Almost immediately after the service, the nominee returned by boat to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Gilson, where he remained in seclusion the rest of the day, in accord with his regime of complete rest during the first 48 hours of his 10-day vacation.
Tomorrow Mr. Davis will set up a workshop in the studio building of the Gilson estate so as to attend to pressing matters of correspondence.
Late in the day he will again visit Islesboro to have lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Polk at their cottage here and to play a round of golf on the island, which is located at the far end of the peninsula.
With a single telephone line and a twice-a-day steamer service, the island is the only communication with the mainland, news of events in the outside world trickles into this place but slowly. Consequently it was not until today that Mr. Davis learned that Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana, Democratic presidential nominee, had accepted the invitation to become the vice presidential candidate on the ticket with Senator Robert M. La Follette, Wisconsin, Democratic nominee.
The communication covering the situation at noon July 19, said:

GENERAL BUTLER MAY BE ASKED TO RESIGN POST

Philadelphia, July 20.—Broader General Smalley D. Butler, who was brought to Philadelphia from the United States Marine Corps by Mayor Kendrick to "clean up" the city, will be asked to resign as director of public safety unless he "decides to resign to reason." It was learned tonight from officials close to the general that he is "close to going along." The officials said he would be permitted to remain until January 5, when his leave from the Marine Corps expires. He will be accused of being out of touch with the administration. It was said.
Neither General Butler nor Mayor Kendrick would discuss the situation, but other officials said he was aware of the mounting showdown and was prepared for it.
SPEECH OWN FOR GOVERNOR
Albany, July 20.—Governor Smith, now on a brief vacation in the Adirondacks, will add in addition to the Executive Mansion when he returns. Two Albany boys caught a return train yesterday and took it to a speech. In the governor's absence, the clock placed it in a case, declaring Governor Smith would be greatly pleased with the new pet.
OWNER OF AVON INN DIES
Avon, July 20.—Daniel A. O'Keefe, proprietor of the Avon Inn and known for years of tourists in all parts of the country, died shortly before midnight last night, aged 64 years. During his career he was a leading figure in Rochester, and was engaged in business in several states.

KILLED IN FEUD MAN AND WOMAN BY SON, CLAIM

Father Convicted of Murdering Son's Brother-in-Law, Whom He Suspected of Playing Practical Jokes on Him

Monticello, Ark., July 20.—Stories of a family feud which culminated in the killing late Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Piffin by their son, Clay Piffin, 29, were told by witnesses at the coroner's request.
The elder Piffin last December shot and killed Joe Freeman, 20, brother of Clay Piffin's wife, during a quarrel. It was said. County officials say that the quarrel resulted from some one playing practical jokes on E. S. Piffin, and that Piffin suspected Freeman.
The eldest Piffin was convicted of murder and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary.
Recently he was granted a 10-day furlough to return to Monticello and wind up his affairs. He informed citizens that Governor McRae had assured him that if he left Arkansas he would be pardoned.
He and his wife were in Monticello yesterday circulating a petition to have the governor grant an extension of the furlough. They were returning home when they met their son on the road.
No Weapon in Buggy.
Clay Piffin, according to his alleged confession, declared his father said:
"I've run you out of this county once and now I'll make a good job of it."
The son, officials say, claims that his father, then reached down in his buggy as if to seize a weapon, and Clay Piffin opened fire, the father dying instantly.
In the alleged confession the son quotes his mother as then saying:
"Well, if he didn't finish you, I will."
He shot her in the breast, officials say, and she died almost instantly.
County officials declare that a search of his father's buggy disclosed no weapon.

NO MERCY FOR MEN WHO SLEW MAJOR IMBRIE

Persian Representative in United States Says Arrests Have Already Been Made—Punishment Certain

BEATEN BY MOB

Was With Another American, Taking Pictures of Sacred Fountain—Result of Anti-Foreign Agitation

Morristown, N. J., July 20.—No mercy will be shown those responsible for the fatal beating of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie by a fanatical mob at Teheran, Persia, Mr. Topakyan, acting consul general of the Persian government in the United States, said today at his summer home located near Morris Plains.
"They will be promptly executed at the place of their crime and this may be witnessed by the American minister and his staff," the Persian representative added.
Mr. Topakyan declared arrests have already been made in the case and trial by court martial will take place immediately.
"It was most unfortunate that Vice Consul Imbrie was wearing a Persian cap at the time he approached the fountain," he continued, explaining that the "mob undoubtedly took him for a member of a religious order now creating a great deal of feeling against the Mohammedans."
Describing the case as a horrible tragedy, Mr. Topakyan expressed sorrow "for what has occurred and I am more deeply distressed for the reason that the relatives between the United States and Persia have been most friendly for more than a century."
Was Photographing Sacred Fountain.
(By the Associated Press)
Teheran, Persia, July 20.—Vice Consul Robert Imbrie of the United States, who died Friday after he had been beaten by a fanatical mob as he and an American named Melin Seymour were photographing a sacred fountain, was buried yesterday, the entire diplomatic corps attending the funeral.
The fountain was the subject of recent anti-foreign and particularly anti-British activity which had been shown in the native press and elsewhere and which the Government appears unable to check owing to the lack of laws controlling such incitement.
The fountain where Imbrie was beaten and where Seymour, described as an oil driller, suffered serious injuries at the hands of the crowd, is supposed by the natives of the city to have been the scene a few days ago of a miracle and ever since huge crowds have been making pilgrimages to it.
LUNN FAVORS SMITH TO RUN.
Albany, July 20.—"I heartily favor the re-nomination of Governor Smith," Lieutenant Governor George H. Lunn told the Albany Knickerbocker Press today, when asked if he would be a candidate for governor should Governor Smith seek re-nomination, and if he had any statement to make in reply to an editorial in the New York American this morning endorsing "Mr. Lunn for governor."
"I have no statement to make," Lieutenant Governor Lunn telegraphed from his summer home at Cold Spring. "Other than that I heartily favor the re-nomination of Governor Smith."

WHEELER WILL RUN WITH LA FOLLETTE

Charges Democrats With Ignoring Call of Millions in Economic Distress

Washington, July 20.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana formally accepted Saturday the nomination as the vice presidential candidate on the ticket headed by Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.
"I am a Democrat, but not a Wall Street Democrat," declared Mr. Wheeler in his letter of acceptance. He charged the Democratic party with ignoring the call of millions in economic distress and declared there was no choice between Davis and Coolidge, whom he characterized as the candidates of reaction and the "privileged interests."
In conclusion he said he would do his best to help make this, his country, safe for democracy. Senator La Follette later issued a statement expressing his gratification and declaring Mr. Wheeler's candidacy would strengthen the Progressive ticket in every state in the union.
Mr. Wheeler last night fired the opening gun of the La Follette campaign in a speech delivered at Idlewood, Va., near Washington, which was filled with denunciation of Wall Street and the "reactionaries" of the two old parties.
Immediately following the receipt of the letter from Senator Wheeler in which he stated that he would make the race, the Progressive leaders assembled here and proceeded with their plans to carry on the fight.
The decision of Senator Wheeler to align himself with the Independent movement aroused great enthusiasm among the Progressive chiefs. They predicted that this combination of Republican and Democratic Progressive leadership would sweep the country.

ROBBERS STOP TRAIN AND STEAL MUCH MERCHANDISE

Elmira, July 20.—Train robbers mounted a moving Erie freight train just south of this city at an early hour today, applied hand brakes, and brought the train to a stop. One box car was forced open and valuable merchandise taken out before railroad detectives responded to a summons by a member of the train crew. The merchandise was discovered hidden in a field near the tracks.
James A. Seitz and John H. Carling of this city were arrested and are being held in the county jail pending an investigation. The value of the stolen articles has not been established.

TWO CORNFIELD LABS DROWN

Cortland, July 20.—Milton Cleveland and Luther Carpenter, 15-year-old farm boys, were drowned in a pond near here today. Cleveland had taken his parents to church and then, with Carpenter, went for a swim. Cleveland, unable to swim, stepped into a hole and sank in the deep water. Carpenter swam to his friend's assistance, but both were drowned. The bodies were recovered.

JOSEPH A. CRANE DIES

Rochester, July 20.—City Clerk Joseph A. Crane, formerly postmaster and commissioner of charities of Rochester and high in Masonic circles in this city and state, died at his home here today after a long illness. He was 62 years old.

INDEPENDENTS PLAN CAMPAIGN

LaFollette and Wheeler Meet With Representative Nelson, Head of Their Forces

Washington, July 20.—Plans for waging a vigorous battle for votes in every state were discussed today at a conference between Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, independent candidate for president, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana, his running mate, Representative Nelson, Wisconsin, their campaign manager, and several of their political advisors. The discussion was general, and no definite decisions were reached.
Later in the day, Mr. Nelson left for Chicago where he has established headquarters. He expects to return to Washington during the week to confer with members of the committee which will assist him in directing the campaign.
The national committee of the Conference for Progressive Political Action at its meeting yesterday, after consultation with Senator LaFollette and Mr. Nelson, decided on the appointment of a campaign committee to be headed by Senator Nelson. Of the other members, five will be selected by Senators LaFollette and Wheeler and the remaining five by officials of the conference. The personnel probably will be announced in a day or two.
The opinion is understood to have prevailed at today's conference that it would be good strategy to let the Democrats and Republicans show their hands before launching a campaign. For this reason it was said to be probable that neither LaFollette nor Wheeler would do any speech-making until after both President Coolidge and John W. Davis have been officially notified of their nominations, and it was predicted that little would be done so far as active campaigning is concerned until September.

COOLIDGE AND FAMILY VISIT WAKEFIELD, VA.

Pay Tribute to Memory of George Washington by Going to Birthplace of Nation's First President

Washington, July 20.—Tribute to the memory of George Washington was paid today by President Coolidge, who interrupted his week-end cruise on the Mayflower to visit Wakefield, Va., the birthplace of the first president.
The President, accompanied only by Mrs. Coolidge, his father, Colonel John Coolidge, and his son, John, left the ship shortly after 8 o'clock this morning about 15 miles below Colonial Beach, Va., and in a White House automobile, which had been sent down from Washington, drove to Wakefield, a now deserted and desolate spot, where only a marble shaft marks the birthplace of the president.
Nearly an hour was spent by the President in the vicinity of the monument. Mr. Coolidge, after reading the inscription on the simple shaft, stood uncovered for some time and then drove back to the little wharf a mile and a half distance, to board the Mayflower.
Arrangements for the trip were completed several days ago but no announcement was made and, with the exception of the secret service men, no one was present during the visit of the executive and his family.
Launch Felt to Reach Pier.
Returning to the river, which is nearly eight miles wide at that point, a series of incidents began which had not been arranged. An outgoing tide made it impossible for any of the Mayflower's small boats to approach shore sufficiently to take the party aboard and the President of the United States literally was "high and dry."
Used at Colonial Beach was a summer resort and there the President and his family went by automobile while the Mayflower steamed up the river. The visit to the beach town was unexpected and it was not until the yacht anchored and a launch put out that those ashore realized that a solitary automobile standing near the entrance to the bathing pier contained the President.

MOTIONS OF LOEB AND LEOPOLD READY

Will Be Presented and Argued Today—Paper Tells of Further Crimes Confessed

Chicago, July 18.—Motions covering the procedure in the trial of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb for the kidnaping and slaying of young Robert Flanks will be presented and argued tomorrow morning before Chief Justice John H. Caverly. A majority of the motions expected to be made by Clarence Darrow, chief of counsel for the defense, will be matters of routine, although the defense may ask for a change of venue or a delay in opening of the trial which is scheduled for August 4.
The Chicago Herald and Examiner printed a story today saying that the two wealthy university students had confessed to the murder of Freeway L. Tracy, whose body, shot and beaten, was found on a street near the homes of Leopold and Loeb. The story also says that the boys admitted having mutilated Charles Itam, a taxicab chauffeur.
The confessions, the newspaper stated, were not made to the state, but before attorneys and alienists for the prisoners.

WAITER ADMITS HE KILLED M'DONNELL BOY, POLICE SAY

Was in Halfway With Seven-Year-Old Lad When Arrested on Statutory Charge—Others Under Suspicion

Newark, N. J., July 20.—Kilton Ware, a New York waiter, arrested here tonight on a statutory offense, has confessed that he murdered eight-year-old Francis McDonnell, son of a Staten Island patrolman, according to the Newark police, who have sent for the New York authorities to question the man.
Motorcycle Policeman Plunkett arrested Ware in a downtown hallway and at that time the police say he was with Edward Lee, 7, of Waukegan, who also was taken to police headquarters.
It was during a conversation with James O'Dowd of headquarters, the police say, the man admitted the Staten Island slaying and immediately by the authorities of Staten Island was notified.
When Ware was first arrested he told the officer his name was Zeno Smith and that he lived in New York city, but he later changed it, according to the authorities.
Laborer and Ex-Convict Suspected.
New York, July 20.—A laborer and a parole convict today entered the long list of those under the suspicion of the police investigating the murder of eight-year-old Francis McDonnell, S. I., last Monday, according to Captain Ernest Van Wagner, in charge of the Staten Island detectives. He said the laborer is known to have been working near the scene of the crime.
Crowds flocked to the "murderer's thicket" during the day, and seriously interfered with the work of the police.
Captain Van Wagner said that an early arrest was expected, although he said there are no definite clues.

MRS. WILLARD NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

Jury Returns Verdict Early in Morning—John Gilles Also Freed of Charge

Atlantic City, N. J., July 20.—After a two-day trial in which two precedents were set in the jurisprudence of the state, the jury today acquitted Mrs. Willard of the murder of her five-month-old baby.
At 11:15 o'clock, following the collapse of defense counsel, Eugene S. Haskins, after the two-hour appeal for acquittal, the case was given to the jury by Supreme Court Justice Luther Campbell and at 1:20 this morning the bell of the old court house proclaimed that a verdict had been reached.
With the announcement of the jury's findings for acquittal, Mrs. Willard and Gilles broke down and wept, and the woman, for the fourth time since the trial started, collapsed.
INTENDED VICTIM KILLS WOULD-BE HOLDUP MAN
New York, July 20.—A would-be holdup man was killed early today when his pistol missed fire and his intended victim shot him through the temple.
Jack Shephard, a butcher, was confronted by two men with drawn pistols as he was about to enter his home in the Bronx. Shephard drew his own gun, whereupon one of the would-be holdup men tripped. The cartage loaded and Shephard killed the man. The other man escaped.
The dead man later was identified as Vincent Di Martino.

DELEGATIONS KEEP AT WORK OVER SUNDAY

Task of Reaching Understanding for Economic Evacuation Perplexing, But Not Insurmountable

SEEK RAIL CONTROL

France and Belgium Desire to Have Workers in Rhineland to Control Any Possible Strike Situation

(By the Associated Press)
London, July 20.—The delegations participating in the inter-allied conference to launch the Dawes report sacrificed the Sunday holiday in order to advance the work, so as to make possible a plenary session Tuesday. The headquarters of all the delegations were active and the sub-committee labored several hours on problems involving the economic restoration of the Ruhr.
Premier MacDonald had unofficial talks with several of the chief delegates whom he entertained at luncheon at Chequers court. During the course of the day M. Herriot found time to visit the French hospital.
The task of arriving at an understanding for economic evacuation has proved complex and although there are divergent views between the British and the French and Belgian delegations, it is asserted that their differences are not insurmountable.
The committee probably has the most difficult problem yet awaiting solution and must deal with several highly controversial matters involving the Ruhr railway and economic evacuation of the occupied territory.
Railway Question Puzzling.
The sub-committee dealing with the question of the economic entity of Germany at today's deliberations made substantial progress. Another sub-committee dealing with the railway question has encountered an obstacle in the Franco-Belgian claims to be allowed to maintain some form of communication between the Ruhr and the Rhineland and France and Belgium. It was decided to report its failure to agree to the full committee tomorrow.
It is feared that the French want to dilute the German railway personnel with a large number of French and Belgian railway men, and thus assure themselves that the railroads will be more or less under French supervision in case of a strike of the German workers, or in other emergencies.
The British contend that if this is done in conjunction with the Dawes report it might easily give rise to difficulties and conflicts; to which the French counterclaim is that if Germany adheres strictly to the Dawes principles it will never be necessary to invoke the extraordinary guarantees which France feels her safety demands that she should exact.
When the sub-committee ended the day's discussion in a deadlock on the question, the British were insisting on a return to the old arrangement regarding the railways, in force for the occupied parts of the Rhineland before the Ruhr occupation, the key of which was the power conferred on the inter-allied railway commission to utilize troops in case of a strike or other difficulty.

29 Were Rescued After She Hit Rocks

K. ALEXANDER MILLER, PLAYWRIGHT, ENDS LIFE

New York, July 20.—K. Alexander Miller, 36, a playwright, shot and killed himself in his home today. He was the son of Louis E. Miller, editor of a Jewish newspaper, and of Helen Miller, a prominent woman physician. Miller was associated with Shamus O'Brien in his playwrighting.
He had telephoned to his collaborator and requested him to call at his apartment, saying that he would find the key under a dove nest. Standing at the window as O'Brien entered the house, Miller shouted: "Hello, and adieu."
O'Brien entered and found his associate on the floor with a revolver wound in his head. He called him and a nurse which read: "I am of no use to the world and the world is of no use to me."

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING.

Hobart, Stamford and Roxbury Join in Four-Months' Demonstration.

Hobart, July 20. — The Public Nursing committee of Hobart, Roxbury and Stamford met at the Olds Delaware Inn in Stamford last Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of arranging for its work. A request has been sent to the State Health department for a nurse to be here by August 1 to conduct a four-months' demonstration. Her work will consist chiefly of pre-natal, pre-school and maternity instruction; and her expenses, except for the purchase and upkeep of a car, will be paid by the state through the provisions of the federal Towner-Shepherd bill. Following close the example of the Grand George Red Cross, each of the three towns has appropriated the necessary $200 during the past week and the work is now on a firm basis.

A Good Riddance.

Gone are the nuisance taxes, or the worst part of them, and the United States should be sweeter tempered. Their irritation was greater than their value. We never would have stood them in the first place except as a war measure and because we imposed them on ourselves. A nuisance tax, imposed by an English parliament, in the Boston tea party. The smaller nuisance taxes are expensive to collect. We hope we shall never see them again. — San Francisco Chronicle.

LARGE SCHOOL OF TROUT

Thousands of Game Fish Disappear Themselves in Otsego Lake Near Hyde Bay — Is Fine Sport Coming Back?

Is Otsego lake fishing coming back? asks the Glimmerglass in Saturday's issue. Carefully protected by law the waters of this inland lake which fifty years ago teemed with fish for the sportsman's wife may be again coming to its own from indications reported by those who have made observations lately. One indication especially noticeable this summer is in the large catches of trout being made by fishermen about the lake from one end to the other.

Another indication, continues the Glimmerglass, lies in the report brought in by F. E. Skinner and party who spent last week-end at camp Waltonha, seven and a half miles from Cooperstown on the west side of the lake. Mr. Skinner reports that just after the shower which occurred at noon-day he and his party of six were sitting on the porch when they saw a school of thousands of trout extending from a short distance from the shore across the lake toward Hyde bay.

So like was the school that Mr. Skinner told a Glimmerglass reporter this morning that he would never have had the courage to report it had not the testimony been confirmed by six other members of the party who included his son, Clifford, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taber and Pell Dewell. A party in a motor boat crossing the lake at the time also saw the fish and talked with Mr. Skinner about it. To estimate the number, he said, were an idle pastime but all were of the opinion that thousands of the fish were dispersing themselves near the surface. The school was not wide but seemed to extend entirely across the lake and into Hyde bay. Some of the fish, the observers agree, were the best lot.

The story does not sound impossible. The lake has been stocked with all kinds of fish continually and hundreds of thousands of trout fingerlings have been placed in its waters. "During the spring of 1880, in one forenoon," says a contributor to Shaw's history of Cooperstown, "with a companion at a single anchorage in water 55 feet deep near the Sinken Island the writer took forty-four fish weighing eighty-six pounds. Thirteen others were hooked but escaped. A day or two later twenty-nine were taken weighing fifty pounds. During the same week 300 pounds were taken in a single day. All this was done still fishing."

The history continues: "In the following summer, the writer, trolling one morning with a Seth Green gang of O'Connell's 8's had twenty-seven strikes, losing two gangs and taking nine fish weighing twenty-seven pounds. About the same time Seth Green, who first introduced the trolling gang to the lake took eighteen or twenty fish in a single afternoon."

MILLION FORDS IN SIX MONTHS

Sales of Popular Car in First Six Months of 1924 Show Remarkable Increase in Buying Throughout Country.

Sales reports from the 34 American branches of the Ford Motor company show that over a million Ford cars and trucks were sold at retail during the first six months of 1924. The actual figure is 1,036,978, which exceeds the total retail sales for the same period in 1923 by 133,095, an average gain of 22,182 sales per month.

A comparison between Ford sales in 1924 and 1923 not only indicates a remarkable increase in the country's buying power but also shows that this growth continues month by month. In every instance the monthly sales in 1924 have shown a substantial increase over the corresponding months of 1923. In June they reached 170,747 which was approximately 16,000 ahead of June sales in the preceding year.

These figures are for retail sales in the United States alone and do not take into consideration the sales made by Foreign Ford Branches and associated companies, the majority of which assemble cars from American made parts.

Perhaps the most encouraging sign of the times lies in the fact that these sales have been very evenly distributed throughout the country and indicate a general prosperity that is not confined to any particular section.

Museums and Game.

The movement for the preservation of the gorilla, threatened with extinction because of its complimentary but perilous status as "big game," has led to a good deal of criticism of the attitude of museums toward the hunting of rare animals. The rarer the animal the more it is coveted by museums. This is natural enough, and if there were fewer of them to be supplied an exception in their favor could safely be made in many cases. — Springfield Republican.

NOT TO RECOGNIZE LEADER OF REVOLT

Temporary Honduran President Informed of Attitude of Washington Government

Washington, July 20. — The United States has notified General Tosta, who became temporary president of Honduras after the recent revolution, that this government will not recognize any government there headed by a leader of the revolution. Mr. Tosta, who held a brief period of command in the revolt.

Definite announcement was sent to General Tosta through the American minister at Tegucigalpa, who informed him that the Washington government would base its future policy on recognition of Central American governments upon the provisions of Article 2 of the treaty of amity signed by the five Central American countries as the result of the Washington conference.

The other four Central American countries were already bound by the terms of the treaty which all had ratified to take similar action and are understood to have called that fact also to the attention of the temporary government of Honduras.

The communication quoted Article 2 of the treaty in which the signatory powers agreed not to recognize any government which came into power through a coup d'état or revolution against a recognized government.

FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

Joseph Kirs of Toddsville Arrested at Millford Center Yesterday by State Troopers on Charge.

Joseph Kirs of Toddsville was arrested yesterday afternoon at Millford Center by State Troopers Elkins and McLennan on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated and held in the city jail here last evening to answer to the charge this morning before Justice of the Peace Ferguson at Millford Center. Kirs was arrested following an automobile accident in which his car was turned over and in which he suffered a sprain of his left arm. Dr. Tarbox, who attended him, at first feared that bones were broken, but such was not found to be the case upon a more thorough examination.

Kirs is charged, struck a Chevrolet touring car at Colliers yesterday afternoon and drove on without stopping. The parties in this car, seeing that he was not going to stop, drove ahead on the Albany road, but other motorists, who had observed the accident, gave chase and George Cross of this city, who was driving his Ford coupe, finally passed Kirs and pulled up by the side of the road in front of the store at Millford Center preparatory to securing the number of the machine and if possible stopping the car.

However, he had not come to a complete stop before Kirs jammed into the rear of the car and overturned his own car, a Ford with commercial back. The car slid for nearly 50 feet on its side and back before coming to rest.

Witnesses to this last accident rushed to assist Kirs from his machine, but he had extricated himself before they reached the car with only the injury mentioned.

Later witnesses upon the scene told of having been crowded into the ditch by the car of Kirs and of the wretched manner in which he was driven.

TRAINS OPERATED AT LOSS

Commission Refuses to Order Continuance of O. & W. Trains 3 and 4 Between Sidney and Norwich.

Albany, July 20. — The Public Service commission has dismissed the complaint of the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Norwich against the discontinuance of trains 3 and 4 on the northern division of the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad company between Norwich and Sidney. The commission held that it would be unjust and unreasonable to require continued operation of the trains in view of the evidence brought out at the hearing that the cost of operation has been more than four times greater than the revenue derived.

Until the change of schedule on April 27 train 3 operated from New York city to Norwich, leaving New York at 11:40 a. m., arriving at Norwich at 7:15 p. m. Train 4 left Norwich at 6:20 a. m., arriving in New York at 1:55 p. m. Since April 27 these trains have operated only between New York and Sidney.

The railroad agreed in 1916 to run these trains from Sidney to Norwich for a trial period of one year on the promise of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce that it would endeavor to stimulate and encourage the patronage of the trains.

New Highway Work Gains On.

The following bulletin shows the highway construction accomplished during the week ending July 19:

Number of contracts under way, 184.

Payments being paid, $9.

Men employed by contractors, 7,746.

Square yards of pavement completed during week, 267,105.

Completed during season, 1,723,547.

Maintenance force employed by State, 4,377.

The above yardage represents 26.35 miles of completed pavements for the week and a total of 145.21 miles for the season.

More finished pavements were laid during the week ending July 14th than any week this year or any week in 1923. There have been 164.2 miles of pavement laid to date this year against 154.7 miles in 1923 and 144.7 miles in 1922.

SHALLOW CULTIVATION BEST

Going Deep Nips the Feeder Roots of Cabbage, Which are Near the Surface — Some Fertile Hints.

Ithaca, July 20. — Shallow cultivation of cabbage is best, especially after the plants are half grown. Deep cultivation is likely to cut off the feeder roots, many of which are in the upper three or four inches of the soil.

Further than this, the cabbage men at the state college here advocate stopping cultivation after the plants have attained a size where the damage is likely to be done them. Where there is considerable growth of weeds, shallow cultivation should be practiced, as the weeds rob the soil of plant food and moisture.

"Good plants only should be set, as the strong, stocky ones will resist the shock of transplanting and usually yield better than the poorly grown, spindly kind," says the college. "Experiments conducted at the Pennsylvania experiment station show this practice worthy of wider use. Increase in yield of about eight tons per acre were noted where well-grown plants were set in comparison with small poorly developed ones."

"Cabbage responds to careful fertilizing, as it is a crop that is considered a grow feeder. Where the crop is grown in a farm rotation and manure is applied either to this crop or immediately preceding it, acid phosphate at the rate of 500 to 750 pounds per acre makes a good combination. Where the crop is grown on sandy soils or where little manure is used, a complete fertilizer is advisable. The 5-10-5 or the 4-12-4 mixture of the 'New York Five' is recommended. The cabbage root system is quite spreading so that when over 500 pounds of fertilizer are applied per acre better results usually follow by broadcasting the fertilizer."

"Several years of experimental work at the Cornell station is showing that shallow cultivation to destroy the weeds is better than cultivation deep with resulting destruction to the root system. A study of the root system shows that this crop develops a large part of the root system near the surface of the soil."

Passenger Trains in June.

For two successive months the Delaware & Hudson company has held high record of efficiency in passenger train performance, according to a statement just issued by the Public Service commission of the State of New York. Its record of passenger trains on time for the month is 95 per cent, and its nearest rival is the Erie, with 94 per cent. The D. & H. has 93.2 per cent to the good. On all the railroads of the state the total number of trains run was 68,941 and of this number 89.2 per cent were on time at division terminals. The average delay for late trains was 22.8 minutes.

LOCAL SECTION
Before and After.
In the days before auto John J. McKelvey was a demon for business devotion. He'd be found at his desk 18 hours a day. And he neither lost time nor lost motion. He now has a car and his shop is in luck. He's worked not in months, (kindly mark it). It takes all his time driving block after block in search of some place he can park it.

—The Sun.
—The home of Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Lang, 6 Ford avenue, is undergoing repairs.

—Contractor E. J. Radley is completing the erection of a garage for W. East Parish at his residence at 2 Union street.

—Academy street and River street will meet on the Academy street diamond today in a Playground league baseball game.

—All matches in the preliminary round of the city tennis tournament must be played off by Wednesday evening. A. E. Hiscorpe should be notified of the results.

—City traffic officers still experience considerable difficulty with local drivers who fail to give any indication of the turns that they desire to make. All will profit by a signal to the traffic officer.

—The police department has during the past week taken the numbers of many automobiles standing in the city parks, ostensibly for "petting parties," and unless the practice is stopped it is quite probable that the numbers will be published in The Star.

—Chancellor Lucius C. Clark of the American university at Washington, D. C., is expected to arrive in Oneonta Tuesday for an outing here, accompanied by Mrs. Clark and Bishop and Mrs. W. F. McDowell, is announced to occupy the pulpit of the First Methodist church Sunday morning next.

—One of the finest of the Fresh Air girls has received a letter stating that her mother is in a hospital in New York and asking if she cannot stay in the country another two weeks. The people where the child is now staying would like to keep her longer but feel that they cannot do so. Will not some good family volunteer to entertain this little girl for two weeks? Phone or write M. G. Keenan, 6 Broad street.

—The many in the city who were so pleased with the work of H. Charles, member of the National Male Quartet, at the Chautauqua sessions on Saturday, will regret to learn that he underwent an operation for acute appendicitis at the Fox Memorial hospital early last evening. The trouble developed late Saturday night and remedial measures proving ineffectual he was taken to the hospital at about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon and operated upon at once by Dr. F. H. Marx. His condition is very favorable.

Meetings Today.
Redeemer's church, Knights of Birmingham, 8 o'clock, at circus headquarters, 255 Main street. Members urged to attend. Business of importance.

The American Legion troop of Boy Scouts will take a hike this evening. Scouts should get in touch with their patrol leaders for further particulars.

Return of the Tribune Fresh Air Children.
The Tribune Fresh Air children will be returned to New York city on the train leaving the U. & D. depot at noon on Wednesday, July 23. It will be necessary for them to be at the depot at 11:30 A. M. in order that they may be checked up, weighed and measured. Hosts who cannot bring their children and who have not already made arrangements for the Rotary members to call for them, should notify the chairman at once. No means having been provided for an escort for the children for two more weeks, it will be necessary for them all to be at the train on that day.

The Rotary club committee is very grateful for the cooperation which has made such a successful and happy affair possible.

LACK OF TENNIS COURTS

Increased Interest in Sport Causes Complaint on Lack of Playing Facilities in City.

The increased interest in tennis in the city, largely the result of the tournament now in progress for the city championship, has brought to the minds of many a realization of the need for better facilities for playing this interesting and healthful sport. In fact, it is probable that the program of the tournament will be retarded to a considerable extent because of the lack of courts.

The Normal courts, regarded as the best in Oneonta, are for the use of students of the school and the public cannot play upon them at all times. The Country club courts are of course private property and are not open to the public. The only public courts are those recently constructed at Wilber park and considerable criticism has been heard concerning their method of construction and lack of upkeep.

Considerable money was spent in constructing the courts, but it is felt by players that lack of care has made that investment practically a loss. The courts are rolled infrequently and play is allowed on them too soon after storms have rendered them soft. It is said. They are rarely marked, players contend, and a further obstacle to good playing is found in the presence in the middle of each court of a large net used to keep the center of the net up. Only tennis of the most child-like sort can be played with such an obstruction in the center of the net. No restriction is made as to the kind of shoes to be worn and beet marks can be found all over the courts.

It has been suggested that while the asphalt gang is at work here an asphalt top might be put on these courts. Asphalt courts are used extensively in various parts of the country and expert advice is to the effect that it would be entirely practicable to lay down asphalt over the present top of the Wilber park courts. The asphalt courts could be permanently marked and the upkeep would be slight. It is said that no effect upon them and any kind of shoes could be worn while playing.

GLENS FALLS HERE TODAY

Larry Doyle's Outfit to Oppose Oneonta Giants at Neahwa Park at 4 o'clock — Philadelphia American League Here Friday.

Larry Doyle's Glens Falls team, an outfit which has always drawn well in Oneonta, will be the attraction at Neahwa park this afternoon at 4 o'clock and an interesting and hard-fought game is assured. The last game between the teams resulted in a 6 to 0 seven inning tie and today's contest has been eagerly awaited by local fans.

Both teams are in fine condition and each is particularly anxious to take the measure of the other. Baseball rivalry between the two cities is keen and when the two teams meet the result is always thrilling. Tomorrow afternoon Glens Falls will appear at Stamford and will be back here again Wednesday. Stamford will be visited again on Thursday.

On Friday will occur the big game of the season, that with Connie Mack's Philadelphia American league club. Tickets for this game are going fast and a large crowd is already expected.

The Athletics will arrive in the city during the morning and will be entertained at luncheon at the Elks club. All fans are invited to this luncheon and tickets may be secured at the places where tickets for the game are on sale.

Ministerial Vacation.

Rev. E. C. Denney, rector of St. James' church, will begin his vacation with the last Sunday of July, and he will resume his work with the church on Sunday, August 31. On Sunday next, Prof. Carter of the faculty of the Oneonta Normal Summer school, will conduct services at 10:30 A. M. It had been expected that Rev. E. E. Hutchinson of Zion church at Morris would conduct the first four August services, and all will regret that he is unable physically to undertake the work. It is hoped, however, that regular services can be held. Readers will please watch The Star for weekly announcements. From July 27 to August 24, inclusive, Mr. Denney will have charge of Sunday services at Christ church in Binghamton, taking short trips out of Oneonta during the week-day periods.

Opens New Lunch Room.

Mrs. Arthur Reynolds, recently employed at Laskaris, whose culinary ability is well known, has leased the house at 187 Chestnut street and opened a lunch room there, serving light lunches at all hours of the day and early evening. While catering to motor parties when desired she expects the patronage of friends and acquaintances. She has a neat dining room and all dishes served will be prepared under her personal supervision.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS

Implying Address and Splendid Music Feature Opening Program of Annual Event

MANY IN ATTENDANCE

Dr. Frank B. Pearson Gives Helpful Talk at Afternoon Session—National Quartet Pleases Audience with Melody and Original Fests Galore.

Today's Program.
10:00 A. M.—Art Craft demonstration.
11:00 P. M.—Instrumental concert by Zedeler Symphonic quintet.
8:00 P. M.—Prelude, Ledeler quintet.
Lecture, "Lawlessness," by Frank Dixon.

The opening sessions of the 1924 Chautauqua were held Saturday afternoon and evening and if the same high quality of lectures and entertainments is maintained throughout the week Oneontans have a rare treat in store for them. The good-sized audiences at both afternoon and evening sessions were delighted with what they heard and were not hesitant in saying so as they left the "big top."

Dr. Frank B. Pearson, a former commissioner of education of the state of Ohio, was the lecturer of the afternoon, giving a talk which all enjoyed and which contained much worth while thinking about. Dr. Pearson is honest, forceful, and above all, eminently sincere. That he thoroughly believes all that he says in his lecture on "World Building" is one of the facts first established in the minds of his hearers, and even there he does not convert to his own views, he wins immediate and sincere respect for them. "World Building," as Dr. Pearson has called his lecture, is not an affair of state or nation. It is the building of the individual of the world in which he or she must live, a world of cleanliness or of sordidness, of goodness or of jealousy, of kindness or of pettiness. It is this individual world which Dr. Pearson would have broadened and humanized and enlightened; it is this individual world which he would have clean and high-minded and fine, that the composite of all our worlds might reflect the near-perfection of the atoms which compose it.

Cleanliness is the one perception which the lecturer would urge for the betterment of existence, for world-building. Clean living, clean body, clean clothes, clean thoughts and clean blood are requisites for happy living and a larger and better outlook on life.

Dr. Pearson's plea for the same precautionary measures for humans that already are legalized for animals was sane and constructive. "There are health tests for animals used for breeding purposes," he said. "Why not health tests before marriage licenses are granted, to protect our daughters and sisters from vile possibilities? Our laws should be so drafted that every child born into the world, two parents of clean blood and a heritage of health."

His lecture an individual as continued, "The less he will be found to be addicted to criticism of his neighbor. Criticism is another thing that does not thrive in the light of intelligence, for criticism is only another form of egotism—and have you ever heard the definition of an egotist? Well, an egotist is a man who insists upon bragging about himself when I want to be bragging about myself."

National Quartet Pleases.

Supernatural C. C. Baker opened the afternoon session with a few introductory remarks and introduced the National Male Quartet, which gave a musical prelude of a nature which whetted the appetites of all for the evening concert. Each number was received with enthusiastic applause and encore after encore was demanded in the majority of cases. Miss Pearl Coleman gave a brief talk explaining what she intends to do in the Junior Chautauqua field and assured both the children and their parents that the kiddies were to have a week which they would long remember.

The Evening Entertainment.

Say! Have you got your Chautauqua ticket? If you haven't got it, you'd better get it. Cause it's your move now.

No kidding, this is going to be the hit of the season and that National Male Quartet they had on Saturday night could knock the spots out of the Ziegfeld Follies or any of the rest of those New York shows. First there was a great log tent and everybody came, even the preachers. Half of the seats were just benches but the other half were reserved chairs, only the question was who they belonged to. Well, after everybody had changed around three or four times we all sat down and began wondering what was going to come from behind that green curtain—a lady or a bear? But it wasn't either one. It was a male quartet, so all the girls moved up to the first seat.

Then they started singing and seemed like everybody was going to be all sad and sobby but just the way that man on the end kept grinning kind of gave me a hunch. He said his name was George and from Missouri—so I knew it was all right. And it was. Well, I wish you could have seen him giving that "Little Brown Baby" howler, he was a bunch like our last cook's fourth husband back in Georgia. He made a right homey kind of a song he called his boys and I—your boys. I bet you bet, I can't express it.

So after that everybody began to get right peppy and everybody would have just about died laughing at Mr. Cox if he'd come back and sang things down every row and then. There was one man named Stephen J. Graham and he could play the piano and he could sing and he could do everything except the audience. He was what I call polite, while his technique felt like a steam train. He sang and the others seemed real quick at first but I reckon they must have gotten behind of the way they were acting.

ST. MARY'S PARISH BUYS HOME

Residential Property Purchased of J. J. Bookhout to be Used as Home for Sisters of Mercy.

Yesterday at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church Rev. Father W. D. Noonan announced the purchase of the residence of J. J. Bookhout at 31 Walnut street as a home for the Sisters of Mercy who are to instruct at the new parochial school of the parish recently completed at the corner of Elm and Walnut streets and which will open in the four lower grades this fall. The new property is in one of the finest locations in the city, and just across the street from the new school building.

The parish is indeed fortunate in securing a property as well suited to its needs as the one purchased and especially as well suited to the use for which it is to be used.

Besides a large lot, located on an advantageous rise from the street, the house is one which is immediately suited for the home, and one which will permit of enlargement as may be required.

Dr. Haylis Wins at Golf.

In the handicap golf tournament, which commenced at the Country club on Saturday, July 19th, ended on Saturday when Dr. C. F. Haylis defeated Leslie Lewis in the final. Despite his handicap, which required him to play 18 holes on the 18th hole, the winner turned in a 41 score for each round of the nine holes, which record lag equaled on the first round and exceeded on the second round. The official record shows Haylis victor at 4 up and 3 to go.

United Commercial Travelers Picnic.

The annual picnic and outing of Oneonta council of Commercial Travelers was held Saturday afternoon at Wilber park and proved very enjoyable to the large number of members and wives or friends in attendance. In addition to the picnic served at noon, sports of the afternoon, including baseball and other games, provided the merriment.

KLANSM'N AT CHURCH

Hooded Delegation Pay Visit to West Oneonta Church

PRESENT PURSE TO PASTOR

Preacher Preaches on "Making America Christian" and Comments Some of the Cardinal Principles of the Order—Klan of Intended Visit Attraction None to Service—None of Klansmen Recognized.

Klansmen made their first appearance at a public gathering in this vicinity, when a delegation of the hooded tribe visited the Baptist church at West Oneonta and listened to the sermon by the pastor, Rev. Frank Whippley, whose theme, "Making America Christian," had evidently attracted them. There were 11 masked men in the party and others evidently Klansmen accompanying them but not hooded. They entered the church just prior to the opening of the sermon and were seated quietly and without any evidences of excitement. There had been no report that they would attend the service and there was a sprinkling of visitors from away, most of them women, who it was assumed were wives of the Klansmen. The rumor had attracted a larger congregation than usually attend a summer evening service at the church, but the church was not crowded, the report not having attained a wide circulation.

None of the Klansmen were recognized at West Oneonta as residents of that village nor as residents of this city. They arrived by automobile and were not expected by Pastor Whippley, although he was given an intimation shortly before the service not to be surprised if a delegation attended.

Rev. Mr. Whippley took for his text the words, "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people." The speaker spoke in support of the public school system of this country and said that it is great power in the Americanization of the foreign born. He also spoke in defense of the reading of the Bible in the public schools. He urged upon his hearers the importance of supporting all of the laws of the country and of the constitution as the bulwarks of safety and peace. He defended the eighteenth amendment and declared it to be the duty of all citizens to comply with it, irrespective of their own personal inclinations.

Near the close of the sermon Rev. Mr. Whippley made reference to the presence of the Klan and in guarded language expressed his approval of many of the tenets of the organization, declaring his conviction to be that they are banded together for the purpose of upholding the law and commended them for never being armed. He also related some personal experiences while engaged in work in the city of Buffalo.

The delegation removed their masks when the preacher announced his text and when he had concluded one of their number advanced to the platform and in few words thanked the

PRETTY SOUTH SIDE WEDDING

Miss Marjorie Seymour became bride of Sidney J. Sutch on Saturday in presence of thirty friends—Rev. Dr. Penickson officiated.

A very pleasant July wedding was that of Miss Marjorie Arabella Seymour, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Seymour of South Side, who at six o'clock last Saturday evening became the bride of Sidney J. Sutch of 55 Grove street, this city. The wedding was at the home of the bride's parents, the double ring ceremony being impressively performed by her pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles S. Penickson of the Main Street Baptist church. The bridal couple being attended by Mr. and Mrs. G. Ross Patrick of Oneonta, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. About thirty relatives and intimate personal friends of bride and groom were in attendance.

The bride was handsomely attired in white satin-backed tulle with veil, and a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of opheelia roses and white sweet peas. The matron of honor was gowned in poudre blue tulle with hat to match. Her bouquet was of pink and white sweet peas and pink roses. Little Miss Gertrude Whippley was the flower girl, carrying a basket of pink roses. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played during the ceremony by Mrs. Roger T. Coyle of this city, a cousin of the bride, and the ceremony was beneath an arch of ferns and white hydrangeas in the parlors of the house, which was tastefully decorated, the color scheme being pink and white.

Congratulations followed the ceremony, after which a delicious luncheon was served by the Misses Beatrice Whippley, Jean LaMont, Elizabeth Owens and Eunice Vanderpool, friends of the bride; and at a later hour Mr. and Mrs. Sutch departed with rice and confetti, showed on the evening train on the D. & H. for Albany. They will be absent about ten days, visiting many places of interest in Northern New York and Canada. On returning they will be at home in their recently purchased and completely furnished home at 313 Chestnut street.

The bride, who was the recipient of many valuable wedding gifts, including silver, china, table linen and a substantial sum of money, is a graduate of the Oneonta high school, class of '19, and of the Oneonta State Normal school, '21. She was a member of the Oneonta high school faculty for one year, and for the past two years of the Thomas Street school in Rome. The groom, who is a native of England, has for several years been a member of the family of his uncle, Alfred Sutch, of this city. He was a member of the American Expeditionary force in the World war, giving efficient service over seas. He is now a valued employee of the Delaware & Hudson shops in this city. Both are highly respected residents of city and vicinity, and many friends will extend felicitations upon their marriage and will wish them many years of happy wedded life.

Guests who were present from out of the city included Miss Elizabeth Owens, Miss Jean LaMont and Miss Eunice Vanderpool of Rome.

Prior to the close of the school year, Miss Seymour was the recipient of bridal showers from the faculty of the Thomas street school in Rome and by girl friends in that city; and since her return by friends at home at the residence of Miss Beatrice Preston of Oneonta.

Have You Tasted It?

The new Shredded Wheat Cracker from the new ovens at Niagara Falls. You liked the old Triscuit, but you will like the new Triscuit better. It is crispier and better baked. Contains the entire wheat grain in a digestible form. Let the children have all they want. Its crispness encourages thorough chewing and that means sound teeth and healthy gums. For summer lunch in the home, at the club or camp. Toast it and eat it with butter, soft cheese or marmalade.

Some Tips On How To Prevent Trouble

The modern automobile, if it is treated properly, gives very little trouble. A large number of the troubles the average owner has with his car are not the fault of the car itself, but usually are the result of unskilled "tinkering" on the part of the owner.

In the course of time certain parts of a car will wear and usually this causes looseness which can generally be taken up by an adjustment. Now here is where trouble very often starts. There are numbers of adjustments that can be made very easily by the average driver, providing he knows exactly what he is doing. You are only looking for trouble, however, when you attempt to make an adjustment that you do not thoroughly understand.

DO NOT touch an adjustment or alter any unit on your car or start tinkering with it because you THINK it is not quite right. If you do not KNOW for an absolute certainty that the adjustment is necessary or if you are not quite sure how to make it, you will save yourself a whole lot of trouble if you take your car to the service station and have one of their mechanics do the job for you. In this way you will see how the adjustment is made, then the next time the same adjustment is required, you can do it yourself.

Sometimes quite a simple trouble develops, but if it is not diagnosed correctly, you can get half a dozen things out of adjustment before you finish. We will say that because you hold the choke button pulled out too long and choke the cylinders with very rich mixture, the engine will not start. What do you do?

The first thing you SHOULD do is to push in the choke and turn the engine over about a dozen times to "air" the cylinders. You would then find that the engine would start. Suppose, however, that you do not do this, but get out and lift up the hood. You probably tickle the carburetor to see that the gasoline is coming through freely. You find that it is, so decide the carburetor mixture is not rich enough. You give the gasoline adjusting screw a turn then again try to start the engine.

You find that it still will not start, because when you tickled the carburetor you only made matters worse. Now you DO have carburetor trouble, but you DID NOT have it before you tinkered with the carburetor.

Well, you say to yourself, if it is not carburetor trouble, it MUST be ignition trouble. If you are wise, you will now take out a spark plug and lay it on top of the cylinder while you turn over the engine and watch the plug points. You can then see whether there is any life in the ignition system or not. If there is a spark, you know that the contact breaker and distributor are all right so leave them alone. If you then take out the plugs to have a look at the gap at the points, you will find they are all right. However, when you take out the plugs you allow some air to get into the cylinders and dilute the mixture, with the result that when you again try to start the engine, it will fire.

On the other hand, you may decide that the trouble lies in the points of the contact breaker, and take off the distributor head and start to "fix" up the points. You probably "fix" them all right—so that very soon you may have ignition trouble added to your original trouble. In the finish you call in a mechanic, and it takes him two or three hours to do what would only have taken him about five minutes if you had not monkeyed with the Carburetor or Ignition.

Now I do not say that you should NEVER touch either the carburetor or ignition, but you will certainly be avoiding trouble if you leave both of these units alone until you understand exactly what you are doing when you DO touch them. Every carburetor and ignition manufacturer has an instruction book that explains the operation and care of his unit. If you study these booklets you will know just what to touch and what to leave alone.

Better still, when something goes wrong with either the carburetor or ignition, take your car to the service station and have a mechanic who understands and has an interest in your car make the adjustment for you.

The surest way to prevent trouble, is to periodically go round and test the tightness of all bolts and nuts on parts that are liable to work loose. Take a look at all electrical connections to see that they are clean and tight, and that no wires are rubbing through the insulation at any point. See that the battery is tightly wedged in place. Drain off some gasoline from the vacuum tank and carburetor float chamber now and again so as to remove any dirt or water that may have collected. Keep all parts of the car clean so that if anything becomes loose or broken, it can be noticed easily.
